SJS Will Pay 'Farm' Damages

Guilty Parties Still Unidentified

An offer to pay all expenses for damages inflicted on the Stanford campus by unknown culprits was extended yesterday by ASB president Dave Down.

"I do not feel that San Jose State students were the guilty parties," exclaimed Down yesterday. "To assure smooth relations, we will pay for the damage, however."

Director of Athletics at Stanford Al Masters also went along with Down in laying the blame on high school students. Stanford's Dean of Students H. D. Winbigler, however, in a telephone call to Dean Joe West, expressed the opinion that it was Spartan rooters who painted the Hoover War Memorial.

Later developments pointed to people living in the Palo Alto area, according to Director of Athletics Glenn S. Hartranft. This was the fourth raid in the last two months on the Stanford farm. All raids used the same type of yellow paint, according to Sam MacDonald, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

The paint was so heavy and consistent that it is almost impossible to remove from the sandstone construction of the War Memorial. "It may take blasting to remove the traces," commented MacDonald.

Down is planning to meet with Stanford's student body president and council this week to arrange for closer cooperation between the two schools.

Students and Faculty Give 210 Pints Blood

Spartan students and faculty members—210 strong—waded through the rains yesterday to the Student Union to donate their blood in the "Blood for Korea" drive.

Over a hundred other students and faculty members had already donated at the 440 No. First street center.

Several others were rejected yesterday because they did not bring release slips from their parents. Appointments were made for future blood donations. The entire amount will be credited to the college drive.

"It was a splendid turnout," complimented Mr. Frederick

UP ROUNDUP

Robert Taft, Republicans Blast Acheson

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6—Robert A. Taft, chairman, said today the Senate Republican Policy committee is considering whether to recommend a demand that Secretary of State Dean Acheson be fired.

Taft told a reporter that the matter had been discussed at a policy session yesterday. He called another meeting for tomorrow to talk it over again and to consider the general topic of U.S. foreign policy.

It was the first indication of concentrated GOP action seeking to force the embattled secretary's resignation.

ARMY HALTS

TOKYO, Dec. 6—The U.S. 8th Army halted its headlong flight just north of the 38th Parallel today and began striking back at Chinese Communists who have eased at least temporarily their 10-day offensive.

Twenty thousand Marine and army troops trapped in two pockets south of the Chosin Reservoir reported that the fury of attacks by 65,000 Chinese Communists there had slackened to small arms fire.

Meanwhile, some indications of Chinese Communist willingness to discuss Korean truce terms were reported today as British Prime Minister Clement Attlee pledged Britain to stand by the United States in duty and friendship.

A flurry of peace feelers to Peiping caused one foreign diplomatic official to report that the Chinese Reds have indicated some willingness to halt their troops at the 38th Parallel.

Proescher, head of the Blood Center. "The whole proceeding went without a hitch."

Student Court Penalizes Delinquent SJS Clubs

A series of penalties ranging from a $1 fine to the revoking of all ASB privileges was levied against delinquent campus organizations at a meeting of the Student Court yesterday afternoon.

Appearing before the Student Court were 13 groups who had failed to turn in their list of ASB members by Nov. 22. The verdicts were rendered as follows, according to Bob King, Chief Justice:

Not guilty: Tau Gamma, Forensics, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Guilty: Psi Chi (inactive until list is turned in); Engineers Society ($1 fine); Mu Phi Epsilon ($1 fine, must resubmit list by Jan. 9); Pi Omega Pi (must resubmit list); Phi Mu Alpha ($1 fine, must resubmit list); Sigma Delta Pi ($1 fine); LaTorre and Lycurgus (sentence suspended pending investigation).

All ASB privileges were revoked for 13 other groups who did not bother to appear in defense against the charges. They were considered guilty said King. These clubs are: Academic Scholars, Der Deutsche Verein, Epsilon Mi Pi, Epsilon Nu Gamma, Forestry Club, Key Club, Pan-American Club, Pi Sigma Chi, Pre-Legal Club, Radio Amateurs Club, and State Flying Club.

Cop Not SJS Grad

William Douglass, ex-San Jose State college student, who went berserk with a pistol while on duty with the San Francisco police department yesterday, was not a graduate of the SJS Police school, declared Willard E. Schmidt, school head.

Schmidt said that Douglass only attended SJS one quarter, during which time he was enrolled in the police course, but left college following a recommendation that he change his objective.

Highlights Rich Risso

By NANCY LOUGHLIN

The exciting setting of the prizefighting arena will transport tonight's "Golden Boy" audience to the intrigues and loves of Joe, Moody, and Lorna, played by Richard Risso, Bill Furnell, and Betsy Smith, respectively, in Clifford Odets' popular drama of tragedy. The curtain will rise at 8:15 o'clock tonight and tomorrow, Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday nights.

One month in preparation, "Golden Boy" will incorporate the talents of some 20 student actors. Mr. John R. Kerr, veteran director of Little Theater productions, will direct this offering. Harold Willard will be stage manager.

Stagecraft innovations, different from any seen previously on the Little Theater stage, will be a feature of the production. Mr. J. Wendell Johnson's stage crew will change scenery before the eyes of the audience. Wearing black ballet-type costumes, the crew's actions will be performed in darkness. According to Mr. Johnson, it should create a weird effect.

In order to simplify the varied scene changes, movable wagon stages will be used. These stages are backed with a brick-wall type covering to be used for background. The reverse side of them provides box-like settings to be used for interiors.

Richard Risso heads the cast as Joe, Bill Furnell is Moody, and Betsy Smith is Lorna.

Others in the cast are as follows: Warren Blomseth, Tokio; Stanley Shwimmer, Mr. Carp; Dolores Ceraso, Anna; Harry Santi, Siggie; Thomas Coleman, Frank; Edwin Klein, Mr. Bonaparte; Joe Juliano, Roxy; William Kenney, Fuseli; William Coleman, Pepper White; Peter Hartman, Mickey; Harold Willard, call boy; Jack Byers, Sam; Bert Graf, Lewis; Robert Collins, Drake; Bryan Rose, Barker; and James Jensen, Driscoll.

Student Group OK's Charging Of Admissions

An admission of 25 cents will be charged student body card holders for the SJS-Washington State boxing match, Jan. 18, according to Student Council action Tuesday afternoon.

The council explained that the charge was necessary to obtain competition with the Washington State team. To keep the team from "going in the red" on the guarantee of $1000, the Physical Education department requested the additional charge.

It was suggested by council members that the additional charge should be placed on general admission tickets, but the opinion of the group was that this would cut off-campus attendance.

The idea was abandoned because the council felt it would cause displeasure among the students.

The Weather

Well, gals, you might as well sleep in your Drizzle-Boots as drizzles and maybe an honest-to-gawd rain will be with us for a day or two. But don't let it interfere with your Wintermist plans as we unequivocally guarantee that it won't rain between nine and one on Saturday night. You can have that bit of practical info free just like the admission to aforesaid shindig.

P.S. Dear Jupe, don't rain on Sat. eve. Tanx, W.M.

The Mobile Blood unit visiting San Jose State college campus left the Student Union yesterday with 210 pints of blood donated by the students and faculty here. Students lined up during the lunch period and later in the afternoon to make an unprecedented showing in the college's history. No "casualties" were reported although several students got dizzy. Coffee and pastry were served by the canteen corps following donations.

Thrust and Parry

Inform Committee

Dear Thrust and Parry:

There seems to have been a slip somewhere in my remarks or the quoting of them in Monday's story on the Fairness Committee. At least, I find that some have misinterpreted the intentions of the Committee.

There are two kinds of situations: one in which a student feels himself unjustly treated, the other in which he observes other students cheating. In this first type of situation, the Committee follows the recommendation of the Bill of Student Obligations, that the student first discuss the matter with his instructor.

In the second, there are several things he may do, including a direct approach to the student involved. In practice, however, many students hesitate to do either of these things.

In such circumstances the Fairness Committee suggests that they may speak to some member of the Committee, who will then relay the information to the instructor without revealing the student's name. A number of cases of this kind have been handled in this way, apparently to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Miss Hinze Gets Post

Dr. William Poytress early this week announced the appointment of Miss Clara Hinze, assistant professor in geography, as the head of the new division of geography.

San Jose State college has been authorized to grant the M.A. degree in geography and Miss Hinze has been selected to head the new division in recognition of her pioneering in the field since 1912 at this college.

Until recent years Miss Hinze was alone in northern California and one of the few in the country to instruct in the deterministic theory of geography.

This theory, as originated in Germany, asserted that man is rigidly controlled by his geographical environs and the course of all of his activities is directed accordingly. The theory was modified in France and in this country to maintain that man is conditioned rather than controlled by his environs. As such the theory is now taught in the nation's colleges and universities. Man, according to the American view is not necessarily controlled by mountains, rivers and climate.

Savio went on to say that the San Jose rooting section "really outclassed USF." Previously, Mosher stated that Savio had said that with the type of half-time show SJS puts on and their crowd pleasing rooting section San Jose is always welcome to come to the Cow Palace.

It was also announced at the meeting that in the opening weeks of winter quarter there will be a two-hour talent rally for the basketball team.

There will be an all-white rooting section at Saturday's game.

Mass Meeting Features Jazz, 'Ugliest' Soph

Sophomores gathered last night in the Morris Dailey auditorium were pleased with their first contact in a "mass meeting."

Feet kept time to the beat of Alexander's Jazz band and heads nodded approval as the seven-piece combo blazed through four numbers.

The program began at 7:30 p.m. with a short talk by Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie. He emphasized the need for spirit at SJS.

By a voice vote the sophomores selected George McDonald to represent them as "ugly man" for the coming Frosh-Soph mixer.

Skits and solos were presented until 9 p.m. The class then moved to the Student Union for dancing until 11 p.m.

Seymour Abraham, chairman of the affair, said the event went over "terrifically" and that another "mass meeting" would probably be held sometime in the future.

Beck Conference Rushing Leader

San Jose State's all-time leading ground gainer, Fullback Harry Beck, emerged as the Independent Football Conference's rushing leader with an average of 6.44 yards per carry.

The Spartan record breaker outdistanced his nearest rival, Loyola's George Musacco, by a narrow margin. Beck, in 80 carries, piled up 517 yards for a 6.44 average while Musacco, in 131 attempts, garnered 507 yards for a 3.87 average.

COP's Tom McCormick and Don Hardey had the highest average for every carry with 7.96 and 7.38, respectively.

McCormick lugged the ball 52 times for 414 yards and Hardey 42 times for 310 yards.

Earlier this week, several Spartans earned recognition by being named on several All-Coast teams. Billy Wilson was picked by the United Press as second team offensive end and by the Associated Press as third-string wingman.

Beck and Quarterback Gene Menges gained honorable mention honors in both press services' selections for the All-Coast teams.

Loyola university not only won the Independent Conference football crown, but also led the mythical loop in offense, was second in defense and had the league's leading passer.

University of San Francisco, runner-up to the Lions and one of the nation's outstanding defensive clubs, was the defense leader.

Don Klosterman, Loyola, topped the passers with 84 completions in 164 tosses for a .512 average, good for 1105 yards, according to the statistics released today by Wes Mathis. Menges was in the fifth spot attempting 54, completing 18 for a .333 average and 254 yards.

For the first time this season, SJS fans will get a chance to see the "Whiz-Kids", old and new, battle it out for starting berths in their respective weight divisions. Coach

Portal has announced plans to use All-College winners in the January meets with San Francisco State college, Washington State college, and Compton college.

The Johnny-come-latelies of Spartan ringdom also will lace on the leather to make a varsity bid. Paul Reuter, a rugged National Junior college champion from Bakersfield J.C., touches gloves with Nick Diez in the 165-lb. division in a toe-to-toe match which should feature the ultimate in action.

Up from the Junior tourney ranks, Bill Mendosa and Bob Frazier will square off in the 155-lb. semi-finals. The two varsity aspirants will be gunning for a crack at "Whiz-Kid" Stan Marcell in the finals.

Another Junior champ, Mickie Maramonte, meets Jabbin' Joe DeSoto in the semi's of the 145-lb. division. The winner moves up to challenge either Johnny Johnson or Harry Topolan in the finals.

Ray Lehmkuhl, 190-lb. Junior champ, worked to lose weight this week for a bout with 175-lb. winner Darrell Dukes. Dukes showed amazing speed with his dukes in winning the Junior crown, but the less-experienced Lehmkuhl possesses the power and boxing skill to force an all-out battle through the entire three-round route. Either Lehmkuhl or Dukes will face Fred Ross in the final 175-lb. match.

The heavyweight bracket may well hold the most interesting and action-packed set-to of the evening when Vince Malone climbs through the ropes to challenge Jarrin' Jack Scheberies. Scheberies has long been considered the top heavyweight around Washington Square, but in the lanky Malone he'll find an opponent capable of dishing it out in large quantities.

For lightweight action, Vic Harris will tangle with John Jackson, and Charles Burnett vies with Ron Giannotti in the semi-finals. The two winners will meet.

Wrecks Beat SAE For 'Mural Crown

The Rambling Wrecks won the Intramural league title Monday afternoon when they defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 14-6, on a mud-soaked Spartan practice field.

The play of both teams was hard and rough, which was due to the eagerness of the players to win the game.

The Wrecks defeated Newman club last week, 7-6, to win the Independent league championship, and with Monday's victory, they emerged as intramural champs.

SAE, fraternity champs for the past five years, were subdued in an attempt to take its second consecutive intramural crown.

Cagers Face Sacs In Next Home Tilt

The Varsity cagers hope to regain their shooting eyes against Sacramento State college Saturday night in the Men's gym.

Inability to hit the basket with any amount of accuracy and a spotty defense cost the Raiders the ball game against Stanford Tuesday night.

Sacramento has four of its 11 lettermen returning from last year's team. Although the junior college transfers are few, they are well-known in the capital city area.

Regis Hurley, spark-plug of last season's crew, heads the returning veterans. Carl Youngstrom, former All-American junior college selection; Jack Sarvis, and Irvin Schwall are the other three returnees.

Al McFayden, 6-4 center from Grant Tech; Bob Steen, also from Grant Tech; Bill Mumma of Casper jaycee in Wyoming, and Guy Troedsen of Modesto J.C. head the junior college transfers.

A laying hen needs one pound of dry feed for every seven eggs she lays, according to poultry experts at the University of Illinois.
